| THE EVENT

Geology Summit is an event hosted by the University of the Philippines Geology Majors' Society as a fulfillment of the organization's pursuit of academic excellence and as a celebration of its anniversary.

This event aims to promote earth sciences to high school students as it is a rapidly growing avenue for careers in the academe and the industry. It also provides students a venue to learn more about the discipline, express their creativity, and experience science through an online webinar. The event is jam-packed with activities that will advance the talents and knowledge of high school student in the different areas of earth sciences. Aside from these, there will also be a series of lectures and workshops to be given to students to let them delve into what a potential future career in the field of earth sciences can offer them.
